About MEDEXON 2026

MEDEXON 2026 is an international mediation competition organised by Dexon Global, through its Centre for Institutional Peacebuilding, ODR, Mediation and Arbitration Training, in collaboration with Pontifícia Universidade Católica de São Paulo (PUC-SP), Brazil, and powered by TiradoADR Limited, London, UK.

The competition brings together a distinguished network of institutions, practitioners, academics, and dispute-resolution professionals from across eight jurisdictions, creating a truly international platform for participants to engage with diverse perspectives on mediation and alternative dispute resolution. Its international network includes representation and collaboration spanning India, Brazil, the United Kingdom, the United States, Nigeria, Ecuador, New Zealand, and Türkiye.

At its heart, MEDEXON 2026 seeks to bridge the gap between theoretical knowledge and practical dispute resolution. Through a competitive and experiential format, participants have the opportunity to develop their skills in communication, negotiation, problem-solving, collaboration, and interest-based dispute resolution while engaging with contemporary approaches to mediation. This reflects the broader vision of the Dexon Global Centre, which focuses on advancing ADR, mediation, ODR, institutional peacebuilding, research, and international collaboration.

Beyond the competition itself, MEDEXON 2026 is envisioned as a platform for cross-border learning, professional interaction, and knowledge exchange. With an international advisory board comprising experienced mediators, arbitrators, academics, and ADR practitioners, the competition offers participants exposure to a wider global dispute-resolution ecosystem.

The competition also offers a range of opportunities beyond the rounds, including cash prizes for the winning team, internship opportunities for the top four teams with leading firms and dispute-resolution centres, and publication opportunities for participants.

Overall, MEDEXON 2026 represents an international platform for the next generation of mediation professionals, bringing together students, institutions, and practitioners across jurisdictions to promote dialogue, cooperation, practical learning, and the development of more effective and sustainable approaches to dispute resolution.
